THE HOMAGE OF JUSTICE.

Wehave compiled, from various sources, the ollowing disinterested testimonials, which were commanded from their several authors by the los ty patriotism, valor talents and success of Gen. HARRISON, long before he was named for the Presidency, and in times which ought to give them weight sufficient to bear down all the petty calumnies and quibbling objections which party malignity may now presume to forge against the war-worn and time-honored patriot and soldier.

The authorities we present against the puny attacks of Loco-Foco Federalism, and which we shall stereotype as an imprognable barricade against all opposition, are no less than the Con-GRESSOF THE UNITED STATES, the LEGISLATURES OF INDIANA, and of KENTUCKY, JAMES MADI-SON, JAMES MONROE, COL. RICHARD M. JOHN-SON, ANTHONY WAYNE, LANGBON CHEVES, SI-MON, SNYDER GOV. SHELBY, COM. PERRY, COL. CROGHAN, Cot. Davies, and others, including Co'. Croghan, now of the War Department: in the illustrious catalogue even Thomas Riferia

Col. Johnson said, (in Congress)-"Who is Gen. Harrison? The son of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who of the career of Gen. Harrison I need not speak—the history of the West, is his history. For forty years he has been identified with its interests, its perils and its hopes. Universally beloved in the walks of peace, and distinguished by his ability in the councils of his country, he has never sustained a defeat."

James Manison, in a special message to Con gress, Dec. 18, 1811, said,

While it is deeply lamented that so many valuable lives have been lost in the action which took

and the world must therefore do instice to place on the 7th ultimo, Congress will see with who was too modest to be just to himse satisfaction the dauntless spirit of fortitude victoriously displayed by every description of troops engaged, as well as the collected firmness which distinguished their commander on an occasion requiring the utmost exertions of valour and discipline.

JAMES MADISON in his message to Congress, Nov. 1812, said,

An ample force from the States of Kentucky Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, is placed, with the addition of a few regulars under the command of Brigadier Gen. HARRISON, possesses the entire confidence of his fellow soldiers, among whom are citizens, some of these volunteers in the ranks, not less distinguished by their political stations than by their, personal merits.

In Mr. Madison's message of Dec. 1813, the compliment was extended, as follows:

The success on Lake Eric having opened a passage on the territory of the enemy, the officer coma general action, which quickly terminated in the capture of the British, and dispersion of the savage

This result is signally honorable to Major GEN ERAL HARRISON, by whose military talents it was Prepared.

The following tribute of praise was paid to General Harrison, in 1811, by eleven of the officers who fought under his banner at the battle of Tip-"Should our country again require our services to

"Already is the brow of the young warrior, of the ruthless savages of the wilderness, and from the still more savage Proctor, rest on Harrison and his gallant army

In the Legislature of Indiana, on the 12th Nov 1911, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Gen. Wm. Johnson, thus addressed General Har-

"Sir-The House of Representatives of the Indiana territory, in ther own name, and in behalf of their constituents, most cordially reciprocate the congratulations of your Excellency on the glorious result of the late sanguinary conflict with the Shaw-nee Prophet, and the tribes of Indians confederated with him; when we see displayed in behalf of our country, not only the consummate abilities of the general, but the heroism of the man; and when we take into view the benefits which must result to that country form those exertions, we cannot, for a moment, withhold our meed of applause."
The following resolve of both houses of the Legislature of Kentucky, will have a similar effect on the nerves of those who circulate the slander respecting the "white horse," and the fall of the gallant Col. Daviess:

Legislature of Kentucky, Jan. 7, 1812. Resolved, By the Senate and House of Repre sentatives of the State of Kentucky, that in the late campaign against the Indians upon the Wabash, Gov. William Henry Harrison has behaved like a hero, a patriot, and a general; and that for his cool, deliberate, skiiful and gallant conduct in the battle of Tipecanoe, he well deserves the warmest thanks of his country and his nation.

Gen. Anthony Wayne, in his Letter to the Se retary of War, giving an official account of his sanguinary Indian Battle, in 1792, said: "My faithful and gallant Lieutenant Harrison, rendered the most essential service, by communicating my orders in every direction, and by his conduct and bravery, exciting the troops to press for

The following resolution, which passed both houses of Congress, with but one dissenting voice, is calculated to make the " petticont heros," feel- stant, and the if such slanderers can feel any thing but the lash. Whereupon

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representative of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major General Wil-liam Henry Harrison, and Isaac Shulby, late Governor of Kentucky, and, through them to the officers and men under their command, for their gallantry and good conduct in defeating the combined British and Indian forces under Major General Proctor, on LIAM H. "I desire no plaudits which are bestowed upon me at the expense of Gen. Harrison.

"I have felt the warmest attachment for him as man, and my confidence in him as an able commander remains unshaken. I feel every assurance that he will at all times do me ample justice; and nothing could give me more pain than to see his enemits seize upon this occasion to deal out their un-friendly feelings and acrimonious dislike; and as spent the greater part of his large fortune in redeeming the pledge he then gave, of his fortune, life and bas hitherto done,) to make the wisest arrangements secred honor,' to secure the liberties of his countained the most judicious disposition, which the forces under his command will justify, I shall not hesitate to unite with the army in bestowing upon him that confidence which he so richly merits, and which has on no occasion been withheld."

Lastly we come to the neat compliment of Thomas Richie, Editor of the Richmond Enquirbeen yet more illustriously distinguished in the er, the leading organ of the Coalition in the South, who now brandishes his old "chapeless "During the late war, he was longer in active sword with two broken points," and threatens service than any other General officer, he was per- devastating war upon the conquorer of the Brithaps, oftener in action than any one of them, and tish and Indian Cooliden of the West!
